Prior to the arrival of the goods the Custom-House officials had received information from the Wall Paper Trust that a lot of goods of this kind were being brought in far below their true value. Acting on this information the Collector ordered a special examination of the goods and found that they were undervalued over 50 per cent.

This is one of the biggest undervaluation cases that the Custom-House has had to deal with The goods were valued at 4.500. Each case weighs over 400 points. It is said the importers will light the case in the courts.

Assistant District-Attorney McIntyre then stated that in view of the great importance of the case and the large mass of testimony that will be submitted, he thought it best to defer the further taking of evidence until Monday.

He wished more time to properly prepare it, and he thought, also, that the jury should visit the scene of the disaster and look over the ruins, in order that they might obtain a better idea of the situation.

Coroner O'Meagher agreed to this and the inquest was, therefore, adjourned until Monday morning at 11 o'clock. Soon after adjournment the nin intrors visited the collapsed building at 183 Orchard street in charge of Coroners Clerks John G. Kelly and Albert Cuffey, and Policeman O'Hourke, of the East Fifth street station. They were also accompanied by Assistant District-Attorneys McIntyre and Townsend.

After looking over the ruins the jury concluded unanimously that the accident was more the result of the plan of construction than of the material used. While some of them were of the opinion that the mortar used was good, others thought it was poor. Of the former was Foreman Flags.

FOR M'GONIGLE'S PARDON.

Gov. Morten Forwards a Petition to District-Attorney Fellows.

District-Attorney Fellows to-day received a netification from Gov. Morten for that a petition had been received by him for the pardon of Dr. Henry G. McGonigle, who on Oct. 19, 1890, was sentenced by Judge Fitzgerald in the Court of General Sessions to State prison for fourteen years.

Dr. McGonigle had had a most sensational trial for causing the death by a criminal operation of Annie Goodwin, a cigarette girl, who had been taken to McGonigle by her lover, a young man an amed Harrison. He was found guilty of manslaughter in the second degree.

Gov. Morton does not wish to grant a pardon without the recommendation of the District-Attorney, although it has been represented that McGonigle is seventy-girly experience has been death by a condition of the District-Attorney, although it has been regresented that McGonigle is seventy-girly experience has been the manslaughter in the second degree.

Gov. Morton does not wish to grant a pardon without the recommendation of the District-Attorney, although it has been represented that McGonigle is seventy-girly experience has been the change in his appearance. The physician who has charge of his case states that his nervous prostration is accompanied by a condition of scute metancholia. Mr. Lawrence is one of the governors of the Union Club and a member of the Metropolitan, Knickerbocker, and Tuxedo Clubs. He is a son of ex-Gov. Lawrence, of Rhode Island.

CLEVELAND AT HATTERAS.

Going Gunning for Ducks in Pame Heo Sound To-Morrow.

CAPE HATTERAS, N. C., March 2.—
The lighthouse steamer Violet, with President Cleveland, Dr. O'Reilly and Commanders Wilde and Lamberton aboard, anchored in Pamilico Sound, off Cape Hatteras lighthouse, this morning. The Violet is delivering supplies and inspecting the screw pile light-houses in her district, some of which the keepers had to abandon during the late freeze. No damage was done and the lights are all burning well.

The steamer had a pleasant run from Norfolk. Mr. Cleveland and the others are in excellent health and spirits. No shooting was done to-day, but if the weather permits an early start will be made for the "Bilnds" to-morrow morning.

As there are plenty of ducks seemed.

ing.

As there are plenty of ducks, geese and brant here now, a big day's sport is expected. The weather is warm and pleasant.

DR. FIELD IS DEAD.

Dr. M. D. Field, surgeon of the Elevated road, died this morning.
Dr. Field was treasurer of the Medico-Legai Society, and was one of Bellevue Hospital's insanity experts. He was a nephew of Cyrus W. Field. He has figured as an expert in a number of well-known cases where questions of insanity had to be decided on. When the Manhattan Elevated Railway established its Bureau of Adjustments for logicies received in accidents. Dr. Field was placed in charge of it. He was for some time surgeon-in-chief of the road.
